

Michelle Angus, Honorary Education Officer

Job Title : Consultant Physiotherapist

Place of work : Salford Royal NHS Foundation Trust

Michelle graduated from Keele University in 1999 and began working in Blackpool, moving to Salford to complete her rotations. Michelle completed an MSc in Sports and Exercise injury management in 2004, she has worked in all levels of sport including Team GB at youth Olympics, World Student Games and the Olympic Games. She was the lead physiotherapist for the England Womens Rugby and GB ladies Basketball.

Michelle maintained her commitment to the NHS throughout her career, in the Emergency Department at Salford Royal and Royal Bolton Hospitals before moving to Orthopaedics in Bolton's CATS and fracture clinics. She returned to Salford after managing the medical services for a competition venue at the Commonwealth Games in 2014. Michelle now works at the Manchester Centre for Clinical Neurosciences within the Emergency Village at Salford Royal. She leads a team of Advanced Practitioner Physiotherapists in the Emergency Department, acute Orthopaedics, Complex Spines and Neurorehabilitation, linking closely with the MSK CATS clinicians across Salford and Pennine. Michelle has a passion for Advanced Practice and developing the role of non-medical prescribing.

Michelle has completed the FCP course at UCLAN and works clinically as a Consultant Physiotherapist.

Why I joined the committee : Michelle joined the APPN to be at the forefront of developments in Advanced Practice and help drive the agenda nationally, ensuring physiotherapists have a voice in this area and continue to influence and enhance patient care. Michelle took on the role of Education Officer at the APPN to help share the knowledge and skills in this area and allow others to develop their advanced practice skills.
